WORLDWIDE REUNION, MAY 1-3, 2009

BOB WILEY, COORDINATOR

The Florida Chapter hosts this edition of the biannual WorldWide Reunion. This year we will highlight the conjunction of two important events-'New Beginnings' and '50-Years of AFTAC.' 'Radisson Resort at the Port' is the location and May 1-3 are the dates.

Some of you may know that designs are being drawn up for a new AFTAC building here at Patrick. And, AFTAC, as that named entity, is also planning to celebrate its "official" 50th birthday July 2009.

"A TEAM"...OF HORSCHES

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

NOTICE: You receive this issue several weeks early, hopefully in time to be reminded of the reunion and register by the deadline, April 17th.

Plans are in their final stages and we look forward to seeing as many of you as possible in early May. As we go to press with this issue, the deadline date of April 17th draws nigh but you may still have time to 'get onboard.' Information and registration forms are in this issue. These are also available at the alumni assn websites (see 'Chapter' section on left for URLs). As we prepare to celebrate another reunion, it is most helpful to review an earlier issue of the Post-Monitor. In the 2005.08 (September) issue we wrote extensively of the alumni association over the years. This issue is available at the assn website, 'newsletters.'

We received an email on January 31st that clarified something we 'quoted' in the December issue we felt should be printed in the editorial area. Sage, James Closs wrote:" In the latest PoMo, page 4, 3rd full Para in left column, there is a reference to "Gulf War 1." It is properly known as Desert Shield & Desert Storm, and is totally distinct from the current operations entitled Operation Iraqi Freedom (not "Gulf War 2").

Being a veteran of Desert Storm, I'm proud of the distinction. The distinction also exists in the eyes of Congress who declared each action as independent wars, with resultant award of distinct medals. I've been on a campaign to keep these two distinct conflicts separated, and I feel we have an incumbent responsibility to maintain the proper titles since we are a military affiliated/veterans group. Just my two cents worth. Thanks."

We wrote back thanking Jim and that we could not agree more and would certainly print this clarification. He served AFTAC for many years and at many places; we thank him for this service.

Right after St. Valentine's day we asked Mike Black, the Assn WebMaster, to send out at eALLert ... he did so and informed us there are now 800 Sages signed up for this service, and no bounces!! Thanks to those of you who have registered your email address at the website, and, for keeping the addresses up-to-date.

In early March, Dale Klug, Editor of the CA newsletter, 'Fallout', sent us an outstanding 'Personal Affairs Workbook' developed by the Military Organization, MOAA. We are concerned copyrights keep us from sharing this too widely but one can find such workbooks by searching the internet with the term, 'retired military personal affairs workbook.' After reviewing what Dale sent, I highly recommend all Sages, who have not done so, do so. It will make you think, and plan, as you probably have not done to this point. Dale's letter, with an offer, is in the 'Mail-Call' section.

believe we have already passed this milestone, but we are combining the two events in selecting the theme for this reunion, Hailing our Future....Honoring our Past.

Due to conflicts which deter active duty participation in the golf tournament on Friday, the day we had scheduled it, it is being delayed until a later date. However, we have been invited to join them at the AFTAC Spring Picnic on Saturday after the Open House at the Headquarters building. You now have a free afternoon to visit with friends or go out on one of the afternoon gambling ship cruises. There are two cruise lines available (www.suncruzas.com/port-canaveral.asp or www.lasvegascruiselines.com).

When you arrive at the Radisson Resort at the Port, there will be a registration desk for you to pick up your material and a hospitality room where you can socialize. Our organized activities will start with the Friday evening Ice Breaker at 6 pm.

For golfers arriving early on Friday, or before, there is an 'AFCEA (Armed Forces Communication and Electronics Association) Scholarship Fundraiser' Tournament. While the alumni assn is not affiliated with this event, it is open to those who are interested. See details at "<http://www.canaveral-afcea.org>."

The Saturday Open House starts at AFTAC at 9 am and should be complete by 11 am. One of our own, Dr. Dave O'Brien, Chief Scientist, has agreed to give us an orientation briefing after which we will split into groups for short tours.

The Saturday AFTAC Picnic begins at 11 am at Wickham Park. We are invited to have lunch with them and stay for the afternoon activities. We are trying to get the active duty to put together some horse-shoe teams to give the alumni some competition.

Our banquet is Saturday evening, 6 pm, again at the Radisson. We are most pleased to announce the guest speaker is General (Retired) Clapper. He will be our 'Keynote' speaker, and preside over several special activities. General Clapper knows the command, and the alumni association, in a most unique way-he was AFTAC Commander from June 1984 to May 1985. In that position, he initiated major changes to the command and it was one of his famous 'handwritten notes' that first proposed the 'Alumni Association' as it is today!

Dinner will feature a combination plate of chicken breast stuffed with mushrooms and cheese and grilled filet mignon. Dessert will be chocolate mousse.

Registration Forms were provided in the last issue, and are still available at all Assn Chapter Websites. An important clarification, and change, occurred after the forms were provided in the last issue:

There were questions about the registration fee of $15 per person if only attending the 'Ice Breaker' on Friday, 1 May, and/or the 'Pay There' events (Picnic, 2 May - Breakfast, 3 May) and the 'Open House.'

The board listened and responded ... if one only wants to attend the 'Ice Breaker,' the reduced registration fee is only $5.00 per person. This will cover administrative costs associated with attendance at that event (registering, name tags, etc) -- not programs and other material that will be handed out to those paying the $15 fee.

There was never any intent to charge a registration fee for the 'Pay There' events or the 'Open House' but we do need names and a head count for these events.

We hope this reduction in price, and clarification for several of the events, will make the reunion even more attractive and increase attendance.

Make room reservations directly with the Radisson at 888-201-1718 (www.radisson.com/hotels/flcocoa) no later than 1 April 2009; specify "LRD Reunion." Rates are $109 double or $149 king suite (plus 11% tax) and are good for three days before and after our reunion. All rooms were remodeled this year and are in outstanding condition. Registration forms with all information and a check should be sent to arrive at the PO Box NLT than 17 April 2009.

Any additions, or changes, will be passed on via emails (eALLerts) and posted on the alumni assn website (www.aftacalumni.org, 'Need To Know Now,' link). Please have your information at the LRDA website up-to-date as that will be used to contact you. We also intend to provide information, and the registration form, at the website. Internet posted items will either be available at the 'Home Page' or at the 'Need To Know Now' link.

To properly place the 'AFTAC 50th' in perspective, we asked Jim Moyers, AFTAC Historian, if he would put together an article concerning this event. Thank you, Al (as he prefers), for the following enlightening and informative rendering, it is one for the 'Sages Ages.' We ran this in the last issue, and repeat it due to the proximity of the reunion.

AFTAC's 50th Anniversary

JIM MOYERS, AFTAC HISTORIAN

On July 7, 2009, the organization that is today designated Headquarters Air Force Technical Applications Center will celebrate its 50th anniversary. While the long range detection function AFTAC carries on is more than 60 years old, tracing its roots to 1947, the process under which official Air Force organizational lineage is computed does not recognize 1947 as the beginning of today's AFTAC. In fact, it was not until the 1990s that the keepers of Air Force lineage recognized July 7, 1959, as the beginning of AFTAC, having insisted for many years that the organization's lineage began in 1960.

In the spring of 1959, an Air Staff study, that at least in part had its impetus in Vice Chief of Staff of the Air Force General Curtis E. LeMay's direction to look at decentralizing Air Staff functions, concluded that the best way to move forward organizationally with the long range detection function was essentially to start fresh—create a new organization. On July 2, 1959, Air Force Headquarters Command issued General Order 39 organizing the 1035th United States Air Force Field Activities Group effective July 7, 1959.

At the same time the 1035th was activated, the named activity the Air Force Technical Applications Center was formed. In essence, a single group staffed two entities. AFTAC was the name of the extension of the Air Staff charged with formulating policy, providing guidance, and the like for the long range detection function. The 1035th USAF Field Activities Group was the operational unit. While distinct in their roles, the AFTAC staff and the 1035th "headquarters" staff [although General Order 39 failed to designate the 1035th as a headquarters organization] were the same individuals. Hence, Major General Jermain P. Rodenhauser, first commander of the 1035th was dual-hatted as chief of AFTAC.

This duality of Air Staff extension and operating command continued through several changes in status of the command. Effective May 1, 1960, the organization was designated Headquarters, 1035th USAF Field Activities Group. On June 26, 1972, the command became known as Headquarters, 1035th Technical Operations Group. The 1035th moved its headquarters in August 1972 from the national capitol region to Patrick Air Force Base, Florida. Following the inactivation of the Air Force Headquarters Command, the 1035th was attached to Air Force Systems Command on July 1, 1976.

The attachment to Air Force Systems Command prompted in 1979 another study of the 1035th and its alignment within the Air Force. After much debate, Chief of Staff of the Air Force General Lew Allen, Jr., concluded the 1035th should be a Direct Reporting Unit to Headquarters United States Air Force. Thus, the 1035th was redesignated Headquarters Air Force Technical Applications Center on October 1, 1980, and in so doing became a single entity.

AFTAC has continued to undergo changes in status since 1980, including in February 1991 becoming a Field Operating Agency of the United States Air Force and, most recently, on April 1, 2008, changing to a subordinate unit of the Air Force Intelligence, Surveillance, and Reconnaissance Agency. Throughout these numerous changes the official organizational lineage begun in 1959 remains intact and on July 7, 2009, AFTAC will reach its golden anniversary—50 years of invaluable service to the Air Force and the United States of America.

There was a roomful of supporters to cheer those being honored. Several Alumni Assn members were present to include CC, Col Onaga, CCS, CMSgt Nederhoed, Pat Snyder, 'Intrepid Alumni Insider' and IG, and Judy Milam, Alumni Assn Secretary.

During the ceremonies, Sage Bob Wiley, Alumni Of the Year, 2008, was called forward to accept tribute and treasure. Here we see Col Onaga presenting the 'AFTAC Award' to Bob. His selection had been announced previously at SnowBall XI (see page one for details).

GEORGE KRAUSE-EMAIL 2008.12.29 RESPONDING TO DECEMBER 'MAIL-CALL' ADDRESS POMO QUERY

Major Lester J. Jackson (Jake) moved to Arkansas several years ago and has since passed away. You may hear from Lt. Col. Clentis Bailey as I know he kept up with The Major. I trained under Jake at Ft. Sill and was selected by him to set-up the original Team 421 outside of Alice Springs. The Loot (2nd Clentis Bailey) was vice commander. Jake went to work for TI and was associated with the LASA project in Montana. I was working for Teledyne-Geotech but not on the LASA project.

Billy R. Mullinax

EMAIL-KEN BREITWIESER>BOB FITZGERALD, 2009.02.01

June 27, 1931 - Jan. 27, 2009

A U.S. Air Force veteran who proudly served his country for 29 years. Born on June 27, 1931 in Gadsden, AL, and left us on Tuesday January 27, 2009, in Sacramento, CA at age 77. Bill loved football and coached at many levels, from Pop Warner to semi-professional. Bill was also an avid golfer who enjoyed playing a round or two with his friends when his health allowed. He is survived by his loving wife of 54 years, Jane Mullinax, and his three sons, David, Richard, and William. Bill is also survived by his three beautiful grandchildren who always made him smile, Kayla, Alex, and Tracy. The family held a private service.

Jack Allison

DALE KLUG-EMAIL, 2009.02.14

LtCol JACK ALLISON, USAF Retired, WCC President passed away on 2009.01.24. Jack's remains, per his wishes, were sent directly to California State University, San Francisco, for research. When his remains are released at some unknown future date, which could be a long time from now, Jack's wife, Rosalie, and family plan to have them interred in the Sacramento Veteran's National Cemetery in Dixon, CA.

BOB FITZGERALD, WCC WEBMASTER, ADDS

In addition to being the current WCC President, Jack has also been the WCC Chairman of The Board of Directors (1999-2001). Jack was also a vital part of a number of our past AFTAC World-Wide Reunion committees, including as a Co-Chairman for the very first AFTAC Reunion held here in Sacramento in Jun 1983 and the last one held here in May 2005.

CLARK WILBERG-EMAIL, 02.14, WROTE:

Like many of us, I have some fond memories of LtCol Allison. My first association with him was during basic training at Lackland AFB. I was advised by my TI that "I"...had an appointment with a LtCol Allison. Don't be late, and report back and tell me what it is about!"

What a personable gentleman he was as he asked me about my background, my aspirations in the Air Force, and other general questions regarding what made me tick--a one-on-one personality assessment. He closed the interview by asking me if I had any interest in flying. I thought to myself--what an opportunity that would be! Little did I realize that his question would lead to a reality for me for the next 26 years.

I never had the occasion to meet him in his official capacity while I was a student at SPINSTR, although I was certainly aware of his position and responsibilities. I later had the occasion to get better acquainted with him when we were both stationed at Tech Ops Div (1155th TOS at the time). I always respected and admired him. God bless his family.

AMON, Richard William, MSgt, USAF, Retired

FROM 2009.01 CA NEWSLETTER, FALLOUT

Richard Amon, of Antelope, CA, died on October 18, 2008, at age 67. Born in San Bernardino, CA, on July 2, 1941. Survived by his wife JoAnne and by children Stephanie Pettitt and Christopher Amon; grandchildren, Shane Rodrick, Mason Rodrick, and Jordyn Pettitt; also survived by special friend Connie Teller. Retiring from the U.S. Air Force after 20 years as a Master Sergeant, he then worked in Civil Service at McClellan AFB for another 17 years. The funeral was held at Sacramento Valley National cemetery. CA editor's Note: Richard was a member of 1155 Tech Ops Squadron for many years and a former member of AFTAC West Coast Alumni Association.

James S. Lucas

DALE KLUG-EMAIL, 2009.02.13

James S Lucas, MSgt, USAF, Retired, North Highlands CA, born November 7, 1926, passed away on January 24, 2009, at age 82, in Minerva, Ohio. Jim had been having heart problems for some time and in late September suffered a stroke and fell while out walking. His daughter, Sabra Lucas, arrived on 1 October and Jim decided to sell his home and move to Ohio to be with her. The home sold very quickly and on 9 November they drove back to Ohio. On Jan 24, 2009, he had a massive coronary and passed away.

Jim worked for many years at 1155th Tech Ops Squadron, McClellan Central Laboratory before his retirement in August 1978. He was preceded in death by his wife, Annie. He was interred, 2 Feb 2009, at Mount Vernon Memorial Park, Fair Oaks, CA. Expressions of sympathy may be sent to Sabra Lucas, 501 North Market St, Minerva OH, 44657.

Dale adds: The family did not have an obituary. I obtained most of the above information during a phone call with his daughter.

BOB FITZGERALD, WCC WEBMASTER, ADDS

Jim was our reunion Treasurer and a vital part of most of our reunion planning committees for past AFTAC World-Wide Reunions held here in Sacramento. Since I was the Reunion Registrar for most of those, Jim and I worked very closely together on them. Until he left the area in November 2008, Jim was also a member of the California State Old Time Fiddlers Association, for which he, Nick Pketa, who is a fellow 1155th TOS Alumni, and I enjoyed the monthly District #5 Jam Sessions at the Orangevale Grange Hall.

Vincent A. Bauman

(This is) an obituary letter to the Alumni Assn for my father, Lt Col (Ret) Vincent A. Bauman. My father was very proud of his membership in AFTAC and the Association, and I know that he would want his friends and associates to know of his passing. Thanks very much, Sincerely, John V. Bauman, Colonel USAF (Retired).

It is with sad regret that I announce the passing of my father, Lt Col (Ret) Vincent A. Bauman, on December 28, 2008, at the age of 91. Dad was a very proud member of AFTAC and the Alumni Association, and spoke often of his membership and contributions to the mission of AFTAC. Vincent was drafted in early 1941 and served as an infantry officer in the Army, earning two bronze stars and a purple heart for his action in Europe in WWII. After the war, he was discharged, but joined the Air National Guard in St. Louis. His unit was recalled for the Korean conflict, and he decided to stay on active duty for a full career. He proudly wore his Combat Infantry Badge on his Air Force uniform even before it was authorized for wear. If my memory is correct, he served in AFTAC from about 1956 through 1962, and those were some of his proudest moments of service in the Air Force. He took great pride in saying that one of the projects upon which he worked remains classified even today. He retired from the Air Force in 1967 after 22 years of active duty. He was buried in his uniform with full military honors. On behalf of Dad, thanks to everyone who knew him and who contributed to this critical role of AFTAC in the defense of our great Nation.

TOM CAMERON-EMAIL, 03.02

I just got a call from my folks up in Georgia. They called to let me know that Edward Martin passed away on Sunday, March 1st. For those that don't remember...he was the Detachment 460 commander back in the mid-70s. I don't have any other information other than he was under a Doctor's care when he passed. I believe wife's name was Mary Ann.

In retirement, he was a faithful member of Christ United Methodist Church where he served on the finance committee. He was a lifetime member of the Optimist Club, a lifetime member of the American Cancer Society, a Mason and actively involved in the Order of the Daedalians.

He loved to golf, to take his grandchildren fishing and to travel; most of all, he loved taking care of his wife Mary Ann and doing whatever he could for his family. He was preceded in death by both of his parents. -His presence and love for life will forever be remembered by his loving wife, Mary Ann, Warner Robins; daughter, Mandy (Darrel) Straham, Warner Robins; his son, Gary (LiAnne) Martin, Warner Robins; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Interment was Andersonville National Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donations be made to Christ United Methodist Building Fund, 511 Russell Parkway, Warner Robins, GA 31088. Go to www.mcculloughfh.com to sign the Online Registry for the family. McCullough Funeral Home has charge of arrangements.

NOTE: With this issue we learned another benefit of the 'electronic' method. Sending/Receiving ePoMo instantaneously is like having over 200 potential editors! Just a few minutes after sending out the newsletter (done in 4 or 5 'batches') we received info from two eSubscribers about serious errors; we immediately made corrections. Thanks, Joe (Goldian) and Dale (Klug). PS We also corrected the hard-copy even before it went to the printers. MAGIC.

Magnificent.....later, Clark added, "Way to go, that is one hill of a good letter. Like I said, my hat is off to you guys coming up with all you do. Folks just do not realize how much it takes. Thanks, Clark, it really helps that guys like you are supporting us.

The Waaayyyy coolest item in this issue (all due respect to next years get together) is the news about rendering the hand salute - how very long in arriving and much appreciated. Thanks for this input, Glenn. Chris and I really debate what info to include in the mail section because we get so much ... this item rode to the top and your reply reinforces.

Just finished the ePoMo and as usual you guys did an excellent. There were too many obits of friends in this latest publication but hopefully this is not a trend. When reading these obits, one starts remembering past assignments and enjoyable times had with these friends and comrades. It's nice to remember the work and the fun times. Thanks for you efforts in processing the Post Monitor which is enjoyed by so many AFTAC Alumni. Tom, thank you for the compliment, and the sentiments.

Cliff York-email

Editor Note: Later in MC you will read about an elnvite we sent out late in the year. We received many replies from many Sages ... we put Cliff's here for the information it contains ... thanks, Cliff.

I have been an ePoMo recipient for a long time (Charter Member, 1 of 14!), and truly enjoy it. I find it much easier to look up past articles, photos, information, etc. with them in a folder on my hard drive than would be the case if filed in a hard copy folder. I also enjoy the ability to email or print selected articles.

If funds are getting tight, I (and I'm sure a lot of other life time members) would be very happy to chip in to ensure the continuation of the Post Monitor in both soft and hard copy format. All the efforts that go into the publication and distribution of The Monitor are truly appreciated!

As I sit in my home here in Idaho enjoying the ePoMo and watching a gentle snow turn everything white for Christmas, I realized that I have taken it for granted. I would truly miss the Post Monitor should it ever go away, so if funds are needed (now or in the future) to keep it coming, please let me know. Thank you for your compliments, and the thoughtfulness of a donation; others have also expressed that sentiment. It means a lot to us for these offers but that measure is not needed at this time)

This will be our first Christmas in our new home, and we are excited. Darlene's mom and dad are spending the holidays with us, and we will have other friends over for Christmas dinner. We wish all of you and yours a Happy, Healthy, and Safe Christmas, and a Beautiful New Year.

Just finished reading the latest ePoMo from cover to cover. Another great job! Enjoyed hearing from Ralph Simonton. Yes Ralph, Jack Allison was the Det 57 Commander and screened and picked a lot of AFTAC personnel. I worked for Lt Col Allison and then Capt Harley Booton at Det 57 in the late 60's and although I was a Supply Officer, I made several trips to Lackland to pick the best for AFTAC. Merry Christmas and the best for 2009. Thanks for the email and information.

Thanks for the info about the electronic newsletter -- we pulled it up and the pictures looked great!

The newsletter said that we could get a Florida directory from you. Could you forward it to us when you get a chance? We like to try to keep up with our "old" friends. Thanks for all your contributions to the PoMo - we really enjoy it. We've added you to our eSubscriber listing. The electronic copy really is the way to go if you don't mind reading off the screen or printing it. And, as we've said, it really helps the assn, money-wise. As far as I know, you are the first requestors of a membership directory since we went electronic copy only

(Note: Bob replied to a query about his membership in this humorous and supportive reply)

I exist in relationship to the association, in the same capacity as I exist in many other aspects of life, as an interested observer and lurker. My position as the President of the Palm Bay Chapter of the American Hermits Association precludes my joining any other organizations, although my long-standing Masonic affiliations have been grandfathered in. As I grow older I find that my limited supply of social grace, couthness and gentility decreases linearly; I must be careful how I spend it. As it is, I barely have enough for Pat and my kids. I think somehow Pat has become a sort of honorary member by virtue of my past experience in the outfit and her ongoing preparation of the PM mailings. Yes, and we do appreciate all that she, and Kate, do; now, for yourself, no fair peeking at the issues before they are mailed!!!

I must also say that its interesting to review history looking at what's on the website etc. Some of the (well, it looked that way back then) most unlikely people went on to occupy pretty high places as their careers (and themselves) matured. As a bit of trivia in that area, Rich Pivarnik, a 2-striper I had at 421 in 77/78, a couple years back came to work for Harris as a System Engineer (he's been an SE other places since retiring; guess he decided to try Harris). He's now Chief SE for Harris's part in the IFICS ballistic Missile defense system. I KNEW the kid would amount to something.

Its also interesting to note the number of second generation AFTACers. Must have been a good place if guys recommended it to their kids. I enjoyed my 23 years in the outfit, had a good time most of the time and even the bad times were instructive. Met a lot of good folks, a few of whom I still see around (like at Harris). And as I recall things I will continue to add to the Barely Substantiated Tales. Always appreciate that!

My best to all who remember me, and glimmers of me will, I'm sure, show up in unlikely places as time goes on. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all. Now, lets see ... do we know if you are a member or not?!

Jerry sent a 'heads-up' concerning possible changes (essentially, co-pays). As usual, we made every effort to corroborate and found the same information at many military sites. Clark Creery replied with this link, 'http://www.chetedwards.com/node/380,' citing legislature that would head off the aforementioned action. Lastly, Mike Gingrich, sent the following definitive email containing a letter that had been sent to an inquiring friend. Subsequently, we received this same letter from several other Sages.

I think folks are getting their shorts all knotted up for no reason. This is part of the annual Kabuki dance at CBO.

The national websites of MOAA and AFA have addressed it effectively, but one of the best explanations came just recently from Senator Lieberman.

Tricare Correspondence From Senator Lieberman

(Letter dated, Feb 19, 2009) Thank you for contacting me regarding rumored cuts in benefit programs for military retirees, including TRICARE for Life. Currently, a wealth of false and misleading information is being distributed on this matter; and I welcome the opportunity to explain the source of the confusion.

I am aware of several chain emails, online discussion boards, blogs, and even articles in well-intentioned veterans' publications that imply that President Obama and Congress plan on eliminating TRICARE for Life. The insinuations put forth by these sources are false. The source of these stories is a report issued by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO), entitled Budget Options Volume 1: Health Care, released in December 2008.

Before jumping to conclusions about the report itself, however, it is important to know exactly what the CBO is. CBO is a nonpartisan federal agency, tasked with providing Congress with cost estimates for the many legislative proposals considered each year. It also periodically offers Congress suggestions for adjusting federal spending. CBO is an information gathering body for Members of Congress. Its recommendations about the budget are completely non binding; and its officers do not draft actual policy, legislation, or law.

The Budget Options report in question offers a total of 115 options for reducing (or, in some cases, increasing) federal spending on health care, only three of which relate to TRICARE. These options are merely suggestions, not policy statements or actual legislation. Reports such as this one are routine, and very few options or recommendations made by CBO are typically acted upon. President Obama has not indicated support for the three recommendations in this report related to TRICARE, nor has any Member of Congress, to the best of my knowledge. Any suggestion that the Administration is affiliated with this report ignores the fact that it was drafted by the CBO - which, again, is an advisory body of the legislative branch, not the executive branch.

You may also be interested to know that both the Reserve Officers Association (ROA) and the Military Officers Association of America (MOAA) have issued statements condemning the aforementioned rumors that are being perpetuated through chain emails.

I hope that you have found this letter informative, and I encourage you to share this information with members of your community who are concerned about issues relating to military retirees. As a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, please be assured of my continued commitment to protecting the various interests of all those who have fought tirelessly to protect our cherished freedoms.

Thank you again for sharing your views and concerns with me. I hope you will continue to visit my website at <http://lieberman.senate.gov> for updated news about my work on behalf of Connecticut and the nation. Please contact me if you have any additional questions or comments about our work in Congress. Sincerely, Joseph I.

(Cliff mentions the TFL info) On a brighter note, I was reading my latest issue of Scientific American (March 2009) and discovered an article on Detecting Nuclear Tests on page 70. It gives a good explanation of how nuclear test are detected, size that can be detected, etc., and on page 76 says: "One network of particular note among all the foregoing networks is the monitoring system the U.S. still maintains specifically for detecting nuclear explosions. The Atomic Energy Detection System (AEDS) is operated by the Air Force Technical Application Center (AFTAC) out of Patrick Air Force Base in Florida and includes an extensive global network of seismometers". Thanks, Cliff. We checked and SA has an outstanding website.

Attached is an 11-page 'Personal Affairs Workbook' we distribute as part of our customer service at the McClellan Retiree Activities Office where I volunteer. We have quite a few surviving spouses who come in to see us for help and, if their retired military spouse had completed a workbook like this, they would have avoided a lot of stress at a very trying time.

I also have an extensive 56-page workbook that costs me about $8.00 to put together in a binder, or $5 without. I can send a copy of the shorter 11-page version free via email, or the longer version via USPS, at the listed costs, for those who would like one. Email, 'klugdale@juno.com.' Thanks so much, Dale, for the idea, and the offer. Readers, recall we mentioned this in our editorial and mentioned the worth of the idea, and methods for locating.

On 2008.12.20 we sent a 'Blind Carbon' email invitation to email addresses (eddresses) from the current 'Florida Membership' listing which our current 'Membership Chair' Randy Vlassick, maintains. EDITOR'S NOTE:

Recall the Dec NOTE concerning unauthorized beneficiary changes to the 'Retiree Act Stmt.' We received this reply: "The quoted story did occur in one instance, and was the result of a clerk error. This occurred many months ago. If the retiree concerned would have contacted us immediately, instead of broadcasting this out on the internet, we could have fixed the problem. However, it does make a good point, that everyone should thoroughly review the RAS. D.D., Policy & Legislation, Retired & Annuity Pay."

The months past were a blur of activity for the LRD Alumni here in sunny Florida. Thanks to their energy, attention to detail, and the participation that accompanies every successful event, our ties with AFTAC and the extended AFTAC family remain solid and robust.

Speaking of participation, our next big event—the Worldwide Reunion—is just around the corner and is the impetus behind the early publication and distribution of this PoMo. You can be sure it isn't just coincidence that I touch on "participation" as a significant component of successful events. Each AFTAC Alumni—whether a paying (or paid-for-life) dues member or just a veteran of years in AFTAC—is welcome and encouraged to attend, catch up, pass on business cards and resumes, and generally partake in what promises to be a festive reconstitution of personalities! As the LRD President, I have the good fortune to meet with some of the most famous (notorious?) "movers and shakers" of AFTAC. The Worldwide Reunion offers a unique opportunity to revisit history, measure the present, and speculate on the future of an organization of epic and perpetual proportions.

What great fortune that the AFTAC Spring Picnic also falls smack-dab in the middle of events! You'll get to see your LRD Alumni at their best—doling out the suds and extending some "who_pass" via the horse-shoe pits. It will be an opportunity to compare your memories of AFTAC events, people, and families and the togetherness they shared through the years of professional interaction. It will be an afternoon of pure enjoyment that—I guarantee—and one of the highlights of the reunion weekend.

As I close, please assist me with one last detail—thanking Bob Wiley and his team for the phenomenal effort put forth to bring this 2009 event to fruition. The hours of planning, adjusting, coordinating, and idea-sharing were evident in every forum Bob attended. His eye-watering attention to detail and diplomacy permeated everything—his reward will be your in-person awe and enjoyment at this priceless memory and opportunity.

CA CHAPTER'S 'I REMEMBER ...' AND 'BS' ARTICLES, EXTRACTED

Editor's (Dale Klug) Note: This was received from Richard Burry in response to the newsletter picture of Building T-740 on Camp Kohler:

I hope you will continue to mail the newsletter as we have no E-mail. In June '06 one of my chemo drugs for cancer treatment took my eyesight. My wife reads the newsletter to me, where I hope to hear a name I remember. The latest newsletters from West coast and Patrick were a slam-dunk.

Building T-740 is where I worked from May '52 to Jan '55, when I ended my enlistment. Building T-740 was one of the remaining buildings of what had been Camp Kohler, a German POW Camp in WWII. T-740 was a gym, where the basketball court and open area were turned into a warehouse where rows of bins were kept with supplies to send out to teams as needed. Working in the warehouse were Clipinger, Gilmet, Ardell, Shaffer and later Bell, Refermat, Grosklags, and Middleton.

During this time probably 15 or more airmen spent 60 to 90 days training to go out to handle the supply work. The picture was taken at what we called the back of the warehouse. On the opposite end of that building were the stock records unit and 2 officer's offices. When I arrived, Lt Col Little and Capt Ireland were supply officers. Besides myself, Smallwood, Sweeney, Yantz & Jim Smith worked the records. Georgia Wiggins was the secretary of the supply office, who later married John Magness. Later, Maj Stotz and Capt Godwin would be at the office.

Down the hill from T-740 were some buildings, one of which was used as a barrack for all of us. We had 2 Jeep trucks, which we loaded into 3 times a day to go to the base for meals. At the '94 reunion we drove out to where T-740 had been and there were 200 or more houses. We toured the lab and it was hard to compare it to T-740 and S-34. At the '99 reunion everything was being closed down. Maybe at Omaha the new guys will be the start of the new 1009th. I'm going to send the newsletter to Bell to see if he knows who is in the picture of Building 628. Keep sending the newsletter and maybe I will hear a name I remember. FI Editor's here: Richard, thanks for this article and your membership in our chapter. Your recall is superb and thanks for your time and effort in this very interesting 'Way Back When.'

This was received from Dan Fadness, who was stationed at Det 2xx, Adak AK in 1963:

As you probably know, once you were assigned on one of these Dets, there was no way off (leave) except family emergencies, and they checked them.

I liked to hunt and the CO before Capt Fisher was a 1/LT named Harry N Weedman who asked me if I would like to go caribou hunting on Atka. Well Duh! Of course. There were some Aleut fisherman who had wrecked their fishing boat and the Navy rescued them. They were returning them home and had planned to stay an extra two days so a lucky few could hunt. The government had stocked these as a food source for the Aleuts who would rather fish so ended up with a whole bunch of caribou on the island.

Now how did a first enlistment "good ol' Boy" like me get invited on a trip like that? It seems Lt Weedman was doing some sight seeing and had gotten down on one of the beaches and got stuck. Not stuck in sand but, if you remember, most of Adak's beaches were rocks. Anyhow, in getting out, he had dented a fender and a rocker panel on a new Govt pickup. He was trying to think of how to fix it without any higher ups hearing about it. I mentioned that I was a graduate of the GM sheet metal repair course in Omaha and if he could find a place to work, I could fix it for him. Who would have guessed??? He found a place in the navy motor pool and I went to work. He sent off to Anchorage and had the paint sent out and by the time it got there I was ready to paint. I just couldn't make Navy gray blend into Air Force blue. Anyhow, he was genuinely grateful, and when this trip came up I got to go.

We went over to Atka in a Navy fleet tug and after delivering the Aleuts home we went to the other side of the island and into a sheltered bay, and went ashore in large rubber rafts and set up camp. As I recall, there were 27 caribou killed altogether and I got one of them. We dressed them out and the next morning took them out to the ship and loaded three at a time via blocks and tackle out of the rubber boats. Some of them went to officer's families or NCOs who had hunted and had dependents and the rest went into government freezers. Nothing was wasted. The night before we broke camp, the little foxes did their best to get their share but we brought most of it home to Adak.

There were many good memories of Adak. Some of the guys were down in the dumps for being there and spent a lot of time and money in the bar. I usually took off for the hills and remember seeing the WW2 trenches cut into the hillsides along with gun emplacements ever so often. The guns were gone but the pits they went in were there and ready. The Japanese has already landed on some Aleutian islands but Adak was ready for them. The weather was less than ideal but I was pretty sure I was bullet proof or at least bullet resistant and I loved it.

Dale, I have done it again...wrote a book. Maybe only a chapter, but plenty. I filled out the membership application and it will go in tomorrow. Thanks again for your help. I told my wife about some of the events you had advertised in the newsletter and she said, "Sacramento isn't that far away". Maybe I'll get to meet you one day. It would be a good thing.

I stumbled on your site, quite by accident, while looking for some military history. It appears that you may be what I was looking for. I enlisted in the Air Force in 1960 and was assigned to SAC after initial training. A call came down for personnel with certain qualifications and I was the only one in my outfit who qualified. After retraining on (then) new ionospheric research technology at the U of Maryland and equipment training at SRI at Palo Alto, I was assigned to a site outside of Roswell, NM, and shortly thereafter, transferred to Det 2xx Adak, Alaska, attached to the 1155th Tech Ops squadron at McClellan. I completed my tour of duty there and since my fiancé had a better offer than the reenlistment sergeant, I went civilian as of April 1964. 1963 was spent on Adak. This is all documented on paper and is Air Force history. Does this sound like qualifications for membership? If so, please advise. We were sworn to silence in 1963. It would be good to talk with those who had "been there and done that". Editor's Note: Dan found somebody who has "been there & done that" all right. Both alumni Al Gomes & I were in the "C" system. Al was stationed there in 1964 & I was TDY there three times

September Breakfast-went very well with 22 of the older warriors attending, along with 11 somewhat younger folks from Det 45. It was very productive with quite a few topics covered. The slide show, which was a collection of pictures from years past went over very well. The photographs produced a lot of reminiscing.

November Dinner/Dance-Everyone that attended had a wonderful time. War stories abounded.

I hope your event goes well and I am sure missing seeing you folks. I had my knee replaced a month ago and it went very well and I'm walking 2 miles a day. Unfortunately, I became nauseous a couple of days later and don't know why. Of course, every problem has a silver lining, I came out of the hospital at 208 lbs and now I weight only 186-that's what happens when you can't eat!

Detachment 421 Revisited- The Detachment has changed. A new building houses an exercise room (with showers, etc.), vehicle repair bay (& tool room), and a large entertainment area with a full kitchen. Just outside of that is the barbeque area. There are only five on the staff so the housing facility that housed up to 10 when I was there is very lightly used.

The staff was great to meet and talk to. Their obvious attention to their mission was so reassuring that current staff take the same can-do attitude that I saw back when I was there. I took lots of photos both in Alice Springs and the other areas I visited. In the Alice I walked a lot with at least daily trips up ANZAC hill which overlooks the town and detachment. Mac

CCS WorldWide Reunion, 2009, Welcome

Greetings all!! We have met several times thru the pages of this newsletter and I look forward to meeting many of you in person at the reunion.

I've been on the job for about a year now and I've had the opportunity to visit a few of the Detachments and I'm always amazed (and envious) of life at the Dets. I have yet to see anywhere else in the Air Force the level of responsibilities we require of our Airmen, NCO's, SNCO's, and Det Commanders. I thank each and everyone of you for the job you do and the hardships I know you and your families endure at times.

My initial view is it's a great time to be in AFTAC. I've even told some of our young Airmen I'm jealous because they are just starting in AFTAC and look at all the new technology they have to work with. They look at me strange when I try to explain using computer punch cards and going to pick up data at the mainframe window back at Tech Ops. Or how back in the day we thought we had it good when we went from 8.5 inch floppies to 5.5 inch floppy discs. When I'm told life in the dorm applies negative pressure, I do my version of uphill both ways barefoot in the snow school story. I explain how my first room in the dorms was shared by two other Airmen, one worked days, the other swings, and I worked mids plus it was a gang latrine down the hall. The point of the war stories is as an Air Force we constantly evolve to make it better. I tell everyone they need to have a plan on how to make it better for the person following them.

AFTAC has evolved in much the same way; we constantly get better; a great past with a great future! Yes, we are doing more with less, but we are doing it much better than anyone else. The technology keeps improving and AFTACers keep finding ways to take it to the next level. Our people are the reason we are so successful at accomplishing our mission. All the high tech equipment AFTAC uses is junk without the quality of people in our organization. I believe in the saying mission first, people always. I had the opportunity in the past to work for a US Navy Captain who told me one time "Sarge, if you take care of your ship, it'll take care of you. But, if you take care of your shipmates, they'll take care of the ship and you". Sometimes taking care of people means providing candid non-positive feedback so they can make a course correction; its the way we make us better.

Another way to make AFTAC, the Air Force and the alumni, better is by getting involved. The WorldWide is a great time to do just that; how, by being there. I've been to two, one in California and one in Colorado, and both were awesome. I love hearing the war stories, the camaraderie, seeing former co-workers and the pride of being an AFTACer. (HINT: Active AF members this is a great community involvement project/the Alumni meet normally the second Monday of the month in the Outback. I'm the Activities Chair person so I am looking for volunteers).

I am privileged to be the 13th Chief in this position and often 'look to the past to plan for the future.'

AFTAC continues excellence as part of Air Force nuclear enterprise

MSGT PATRICK MURPHY AFTAC PUBLIC AFFAIRS-COMplete POSTING AT HTTP://WWW.AF.MIL/NEWS/STORY.ASP?ID=123135020; EXTRACT FOLLOWS:

2/11/2009 - PATRICK AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AFNS) -- When Gen. Norton Schwartz was appointed the 19th chief of staff of the Air Force Aug. 12, he emphasized a renewed focus on the nuclear enterprise as one of the Air Force's top priorities.

Air Force Technical Applications Center Commander Col. Lisa Ann Onaga, having assumed command only five days earlier, took this to heart. As commander of the unit that maintains and operates the U.S. Atomic Energy Detection System, or USAEDS, a global network of nuclear-detonation detection sensors, Colonel Onaga knew that a renewed focus on the nuclear enterprise also meant a focus on AFTAC.

"AFTAC has been successfully executing the Air Force's nuclear-detonation detection mission for nearly 50 years without any fanfare," Colonel Onaga said. "The nuclear-detonation detection mission is directly linked to our nuclear treaty-monitoring mission, and these missions are a significant part of the nation's nuclear enterprise."

"AFTAC is also on the leading edge of technological research and the evaluation of verification technologies for current and future testing of weapons of mass destruction that threaten national security," she said. "So, AFTAC's success is a win for the Air Force's nuclear enterprise."

The good work continues as AFTAC Active-Duty spouses distribute items needed by deployed AFTACers. Mrs. Bedard recently emailed a special note of 'thanks to Sages providing telephone cards.' She also passed on the following email from package recipients:

AFTAC Spouses (from previous AFTAC/CC), It was so heartwarming to have a care package waiting for me upon my return to Baghdad from R&R. Once again, the package was right on the mark with the usual snacks and wonderful coffee. You outdid yourselves with the addition of two DVDs and a phone card. The movies will provide a welcome diversion on the occasional evening that is not chock full of work and the phone card gives me such flexibility to call my family in Melbourne and elsewhere without worrying about the time. Receiving the phone card was particularly important this month as my mother had a knee replacement surgery and I've been staying in touch with her cell phone in the hospital. She has really appreciated my calls from the battlefield. I had a tremendous time with my family -- Haywon and the boys -- and am excited that I only have 4 months left in my one-year deployment. I'm also excited about getting back and seeing my AFTAC family. Your consistent and strong support sure helps my spirits during some of the long, long days. Keep it up AFTAC Team. Thank you! Col W / Mark Col Mark Westergren Director, MNF/C-I CM&D

Dear AFTAC ,Your box arrived in good shape. The little frog that sings "let me call you sweetheart" was a huge hit! The snacks were great and those simple little personal items are highly sought after. I never thought I would be so glad to see clean white socks. We have a couple coffee aficionados here who REALLY appreciate the Starbucks coffee. You will also be happy to know that the movies you sent are being featured in our section's weekly movie night. For me, the pinnacle was the phone card. As we are on the move and transiting through various sites and air ports, the phone card is a lifeline to loved ones. In those situations with no cell phone service or email access the phone card is as good as gold. Thank you again and I look forward to seeing you all in May. .Sincerely, Dean DEAN C. 'Do-Over' for Patrick AFB Contract

EDITORS-FLORIDA TODAY, 12.27 SEVERAL YEARS AGO, KNOWING MANY SAGES SERVED AT, OR TDYED TO, THE PATRICK AFB AREA, WE REPORTED ON THE BASE HOUSING REBUILDING CONTRACT. MANY THINGS HAVE CHANGED SINCE THAT REPORT ... HERE WE PROVIDE THE MOST CURRENT STATUS:

Under a new public-private partnership at PAFB, Hunt Pinnacle, or HP, Communities LLC, takes control of 991 units of housing at Patrick—not only the former Pelican Coast military housing development that stalled because of financial difficulties but also the older Central Housing and North Housing communities inside the gates of the base.

The contract also includes housing at three other bases, 3689 units all together, including Patrick, Moody Air Force Base in Georgia, Hansom Air Force Base in Massachusetts, and Little Rock Air Force Base in Arkansas.

The new arrangement came six years after the original $150 million deal with American Eagle, which failed after some base housing was demolished and a portion of the new housing was built.

A Short History of the Pinedale Detachment

AI MOYERS, AFTAC HISTORIAN

On July 7, 1959, not quite 55 years after the founding of Pinedale, Wyoming, Captain James R. Wick, the assistant director of Administrative Services for the newly organized 1035th United States Air Force Field Activities Group, issued General Order Number 23 organizing the 1035th's Team 162 at this western Wyoming ranching town. In actuality, Team 162 had become operational in December 1958 under the leadership of Captain Charles Young, Jr.; but under the rules of Air Force organization, a new order organizing the team had to be issued aligning it with the newly formed 1035th.

A site survey team looked at the area near Pinedale in 1957 and determined its location was better suited for a seismic station than the station approximately 300 road miles to the east at Pole Mountain, Wyoming, near Francis E. Warren Air Force Base, at Cheyenne, Wyoming. During 1958, the Pole Mountain team relocated its facilities 18 miles southeast of Pinedale near the small community of Boulder, Wyoming.

On June 27, 1960, soon after Headquarters United States Air Force designated the 1035th a headquarters unit, Team 162 became Detachment 162. The detachment was assigned to the 1155th Technical Operations Squadron, but was attached for support to the 389th Combat Support Group at Francis E. Warren Air Force Base, more than 350 highway miles to the east.

Due to a change in command structure, Detachment 162 was inactivated and Detachment 459 activated on May 1, 1973, at Pinedale with the resources in place and assigned to the 1156th Technical Operations Squadron. By this time, detachment personnel were supported by the Ogden Air Logistics Center at Hill Air Force Base, Utah, 230 driving miles to the southwest. Due to the distance from the supporting base, Pinedale was officially a remote assignment for members of the detachment, which at one point in its existence numbered as many as 27.

Beginning in 1985, AFTAC planners began preparing to close the detachment due to funding cuts and a determination that technological advances had rendered the site redundant. Detachment 459 closed its doors on September 30, 1986. However, by 1988 AFTAC leadership decided that the Pinedale facilities were appropriate for establishing a new research and development detachment—the Pinedale Seismic Research Facility.

Initially assigned to the Pacific Technical Operations Area, but soon thereafter reassigned to the headquarters Operations directorate, Detachment 489 opened in September 1989 with five personnel assigned. Reportedly, Captain Michael L. Cauldwell, the detachment commander, heard the refrain "welcome back" many times on October 22, 1989, from residents of Pinedale and Boulder, Wyoming, as the newly activated Detachment 489 hosted an open house for community members. The number of detachment personnel soon grew to seven and then to eight for a period of time.

The newly organized detachment was again attached for support to Hill Air Force Base. According to the 1990 welcome letter Captain Cauldwell prepared, Pinedale, with a population of approximately 1,000 residents, had at that time one supermarket, two convenience stores, two auto parts store, two lumber yards, four hardware stores, and no fast food outlets. Presumably for some members of the detachment that was not a concern as they voluntarily extended their tours at Pinedale; however, Detachment 489 was still officially an isolated tour.

One of the highlights of the detachment had to be the day in July 1992 the Commander-in-Chief, President George H. W. Bush, visited. While on a fishing break from the 1992 presidential campaign, President Bush used the detachment's facilities as his communications hub and the locale for a news conference. President Bush made a point to meet every member of the detachment, have his photo made with them, and personally thank them for their service.

Detachment 489 took on another role in addition to its research and development mission during the 1990s leading to the certification of the station as part of the International Monitoring System in November 2001. With the increasing cost of maintaining this outpost and the programmed transfer of maintenance of the station to the IMS community, AFTAC leadership decided in 2005 to inactivate Detachment 489. By 2006 the planned draw down of personnel was ready; but not before members of the detachment again showed their community spirit. In January 2006 detachment personnel volunteered for the ninth straight year to help with the International Pedigree® Stage Stop Sled Dog Race as it passed through Pinedale.

In early 2007 the last member of the detachment departed. Detachment 489 inactivated effective July 1, 2007. With that, the nearly four-decade relationship between the Air Force Technical Applications Center and the community of Pinedale ended. Excellent, Al ... thank you so much for your time and effort presenting this history for a detachment that means a lot to us; this was our first assignment and where we met and wed!!

Bad Brad, Part IV

Frank Calenda checks in again with his great writing style and humorous memories of 'Bad Brad.' Frank first wrote about Airman Brad Golithon in the 2008.03 issue. This was followed by Richard Grim (BB II), and Frank's own BB III, in the 2008.06 issue. Here Frank continues the series with:

Let's see. Where did we leave off with Bad Brad?

Oh yes, he had managed to turn two Q cables into six by laying them over the railroad tracks. Up to that date, we had all managed to survive Bad Brad's expert assistance in helping around the Q shop. Not only that, he made killer coffee.

After the cable caper, Sgt Sears not so calmly asked (told) me to find a job for Brad that would keep the Q department out of the limelight. Brad was such a good, hard worker; I had to find something for him that would be the envy of everyone in the shop. The opportunity came when I was asked to set up a training room for new people coming into the systems. This room would provide a place with a "learning" atmosphere for the different systems to teach their new people. It would contain a copy of all the operations manuals, the technical manuals and other literature associated with the particular venue that was being taught. I was given a "used" trailer to convert and a generous budget of $27.18 to buy necessary things like curtains for the windows, desks, a sofa and various training aids.

"Brad, I've got a job for you." I said to him one morning as he was making coffee. His reaction made me think of that little dog that jumps around and has a big tongue in the cartoon Garfield. I think its name is 'Odie.' No matter, needless to say Brad was eager to get at it whatever it was. "You want to send me to Hawaii for an installation, huh, huh, huh?". "I know, you want me to assemble the new Q prototype single handedly, right, right, right?" were some of the questions I faced. "No, not really Brad. I need you to convert a run-down trailer into a first class training room and I'll give you a budget of $27.00 to do it." (I had already spent the $0.18 on something important). Brad was visually moved and to this day I'm not sure the tears were happy ones or an expression of, "Oh no Sarge, not another Brad project". Then, as I could always expect from Brad, I saw his tongue move to the side of his cheek and his eyes get that pensive, distant look and alarm bells started going off in my head. "Brad, this is a simple task that doesn't require a lot of thinking." I told him as I saw his attention swing back to the present conversation. "OK Sarge, I'll get on it right away." he replied with his disarming smile. There go those alarm bells again. I briefed him on what was needed to be done and how long we were given to complete it. I think the head shed wanted it done in 20 minutes but I liberally gave him several weeks to do it.

Now there were many important projects going on in the Q system in those days. Not that the other systems didn't have things to do but since Q was the most important system, things kept me fairly busy. Brad would report to me every morning and tell me that great progress was being made. He said he had checked around and found items that were needed. He had gone to the base training department and they had donated 6 desks and an instructor stand to our cause. He found some old cans of paint in the paint shed out back and had completely painted the inside of the trailer. When he said paint, my mind immediately conjured pictures of what happened when our young children got into some paint cans. I'd better make an interim inspection. To my surprise, the inside of the unit turned out great. He had painted the inside with a soft mauve ceiling and a warm orangish greenish purplish blue on the walls. Sounds awful but it was really great. About 36 inches from the floor, he had painted a fluorescent international orange strip all around the room. "Why the orange strip Brad?" He just smiled and said, "I thought that might keep the students awake." Brad was very agreeable eliminating that strip. I didn't even have to ask twice. In any case, I departed with some very complementary comments and left him to his work. I had other things to do and anyway, he was pretty competent in finding what was needed to get the job done. I think he even told me he still had that $27.00 grant.

One day, shortly thereafter, one of the guys told me that Brad wanted me out at the training trailer. "Brad? Brad who?" I asked. No, not really. He had been on my mind periodically, say, about every 5 of my waking minutes waiting for an explosion or the commander to bear down on me with fire in his eyes. Brad was never very far from my thoughts. As I stepped into the trailer, the sight that spread before me almost made me want to go back into teaching. The desks were neatly lined up in front of a very decorative rostrum. I'm not sure to this day, but I think it even had the presidential emblem on the front. The floor was carpeted, all the A/V equipment lined neatly to the side, the lights were dimmed, books and manuals neatly stacked and sorted in book racks and soft music playing in the background. To the rear of the room, was a table with an automatic coffee maker there for the many rest breaks that would be given during classes. Brad had done a great job! I knew he had it in him.

I headed back to the operations bay trying to think of descriptive words to use when I told Sergeant Sears about Brad's accomplishments. I went in the back door and saw most all of the systems troops in the back bay standing around a speaker, which strangely enough was Sergeant Sears. "Come on over Sergeant Calenda, I want you to hear this too." he said in a fairly ominous voice. Why do those damn alarm bells keep going off in my head? What he told us was that the logistics people were preparing furniture and morale items to send to the remote dets. They had stacked much stuff on the loading dock to be containerized. Things like sofas, coffee makers, carpet and some quite expensive stereo systems. It seems as though, after inventory, quite a few items had come up missing. If anyone saw any of these missing items or has knowledge of where they are, report it immediately to him or security police. Security police had already been notified and were starting an investigation. Let's see, sofa, coffee maker, carpet? Hmmmm, and where was that soft music coming from in the training trailer. As the meeting broke up, I was the first one out the back door making a bee line to the trailer. I opened the door and Brad was making some coffee in his new coffee maker. He was smiling until he saw the look of terror on my face. Then he got the look of, "OK sarge, what have I done now?" "Brad" I asked full knowing what the answer would be, "Where did you get all this stuff?" Then his eyes lit up and he said, "You wouldn't believe it Sarge, I was driving by the logistic dock and they must have been throwing out all this good stuff because it was just stacked there. Why would they want to dispose of good stuff like this?" I think he answered his own question as he saw the look on my face hadn't changed. "Come on Brad, let's go talk to Sergeant Sears" I said as I turned out the door shaking my head.

I won't go into detail as to what transpired after that. I don't believe the many words that were spoken are acceptable in this publication and the color of blood, both mine and Brad's would look good on these pages. I think everyone from the common workers to the United Nations had to go out and inspect the trailer. Not many other words were spoken. I will finish up by telling you all that for some reason, still unknown to me, Sergeant Sears walked up to me one morning and said, "I've been told that the training trailer will stay as it is. Logistics doesn't want the stuff back. Don't ask me any questions about why." and he walked off. Sergeant Sears was a man of few words. Brad continued to make great coffee and walked around with a continuous smile on his face. I was told that finance wanted their $27.18 back!!

WE LOOK FORWARD TO TRIVIA INPUTS AND REPLIES.

We would like to involve readers to pursue 3-pieces of 'oral history.' One concerns attempts to initiate an alumni assn prior to the assn we have today (started in '85), another the origin of the motto, 'In God We Trust ...', and finally, the development of the 'Center Emblem' (found on every issues' last page).

Most of you may have heard something of any or all of these, but would like reasonably validated information about each. Some of what we have heard:

-Attempts to initiate an earlier assn: somewhere around '81 or so a group of retiree's met several times and may have had a membership listing

-'In God We Trust ...': first seen on a Det 452 Air-men's hat

-Center Emblem: As I recall, Jim (Red) Davis was on a committee who developed the initial rendering. Jim, when you read this, reply and fill us in!

ADDRESS SERVICE REQUESTED

This emblem used by the assn was in active service, 1970 to 2000. The association continues with this version because so many alumni served while it was 'on duty.' See Active-Duty' section for current emblem rendering.

ADDRESS CHANGES: Incorrectly addressed mailings cost your assn and we have several every quarter. Send corrections via email to alumnidb@aftacalumni.org or, if this is not an option, mail to the Florida Chapter address at page 2, left column.
